The way you structure your submission with CBP can make all the difference in receiving a favorable or adverse decision. Using real world examples, we will examine the do's and don't's in communicating with CBP. We will discuss best strategies in framing your binding ruling or internal advice request and protest submission; ways to overturn bad CBP decisions; and alternatives to rulings that still demonstrate reasonable care.

In order to add some flavor to the session, Lenny invites you to provide him with examples of some of the best and worst decisions you feel CBP has issued that have had an impact on your operations. He will discuss the facts and circumstances that led to the decision (good or bad) and what different or additional information could have changed CBP's conclusion. If you think you have any good ones, please send them to lfeldman@strtrade.com by Monday, September 7th. Thank you!
