DESCRIPTION:

2019 is shaping out to be a unique time for the trade community, with new regulatory updates, possible tariffs and the impacts from a government shutdown. Knowing the requirements of each type of import avoids costly delays or Customs seizure of improperly declared merchandise. Difficulties often arise during the importation process often from miscommunication between Customs brokers and government agency officials. These difficulties can result in costly delays, detention, or refusal of imported articles.

Please join us for an informative seminar covering these and many more topics including

- The impact of the China tariffs
- What importers should and shouldn't be doing
- Issues brokers and their customers should be thinking about
- The Sanitary Food Transport Act of 2005 and FDA Regulations
